BIG INDUSTRIAL MEN TO MEET HOOVER TODAY

Labor Representatives to Call Later to Discuss U. S. Business.

CONFERENCE MOST IMPORTANT YET HELD

Penny-Pinching Policy by Consumers is Desired to Be Avoided.

WELL-KNOWN NAMES ON INVITATION LIST

All Are Expected to Assure President Commerce Will Speed On.

By CARLISLE BARGERON.

Industry's 400, so to speak, will come down to confer with President Hoover today on his plan of riding the country safely out of the stock market storm, and later in the day he will see the representatives of organized labor.

Today's conferences are, indeed, the most important that the President has held, for the industrial leaders with whom he will talk in the morning hold the assurance that there will be no drastic slackening of the wheels of commerce, and the labor representatives who are to come in the afternoon are the ones who must needs be reassured. If the wage earner is not to adopt a penny pinching policy as a precautionary measure.

It is this vicious circle that the President wants to prevent. If the wage earner thinks he may lose his job in the near future he immediately begins to shave his purchases and by so doing contributes to a condition that may cost him his job sure enough.

All Names Well Known.

Virtually all of those invited to the industrial conference are household names, names that make for confidence. They are the automobile, the steel, the telephone and the telegraph magnates, as well as the merchant princes.

Owen D. Young, the head of the General Electric Co., whose name the most recent plan for the stabilization of Europe bears, is foremost on the list.

Others are Henry Ford, Julius Rosenwald, Clarence M. Woolley, American Radiator Co.; Walter Teagle, Standard Oil of New Jersey; Matthew G. Sloan, New York Edison Co.; E. G. Grace, Bethlehem Steel Corporation; Myron C. Taylor, United States Steel; Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., General Motors; Pierre du Pont, Dupont Co.; Walter Gifford, American Telephone & Telegraph; Samuel W. Reynard, Lord & Taylor; Jesse L. Strand, R. H. Macy & Co.; E. J. Kuhns, Otis Steel Co.; George Laughlin, A. W. Robertson, Westinghouse Electric; Redfield Proctor, New England Colliery; Philibert H. Gadsden, Ernest T. Trigg, chairman of the industrial relations committee; Henry M. Robinson, of the California Development Board, banker, lawyer, shipbuilder.

Cabinet Members to Attend.

In addition there will be present at the conference Secretary Mellon and Secretary of Commerce Lamont, as well as William Butterworth, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, and Julius Barnes, chairman of its board.

Virtually all of the organizations whom the men invited to the conference represent are listed on the stock exchange, and the quoted prices of their stock went bounding down with the general collapse. From them will come the information, it is believed, however, that their book values remain unimpaired.

Hoover is prepared to assure them, as a result of Tuesday's conference with the advisory council of the Federal Reserve Board, that the belief that money will be cheaper henceforth is an assured fact; that the discount rate throughout the country will, in all probability, be lowered very shortly to 4% per cent.

Future to Be Forecast.

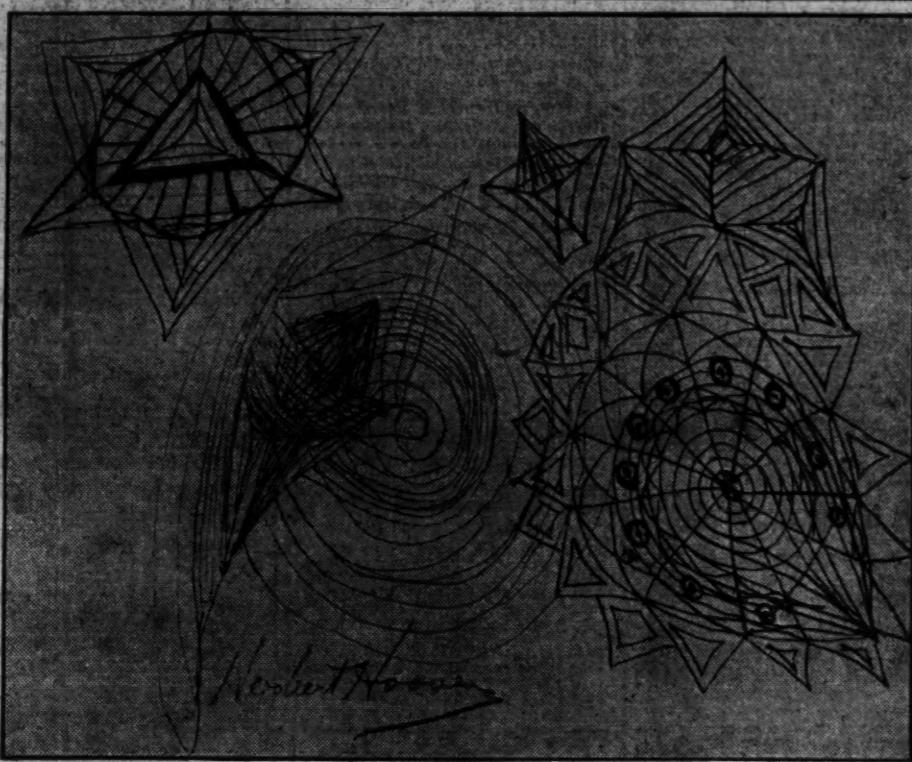

There are many things that the President will learn from them, too. They will give him their understanding of the country's fundamental business condition and just what they think the future holds.

They will tell him just to what extent, in their opinion, the market collapse reflected the business recession that had set in just before the break, and from the exchange of views is expected to come an agreement as to just what must be done.

The automobile industry has been subject of discussion, if not concern, in business circles for several months. It is expected to be, perhaps, the greatest industry to be hit by the stock market collapse in that a large part of its market comes from the luxury class. But irrespective of the domestic market there is a developing export trade.

For the steel and shipbuilding industry there is a boom instead of a

This unique "mosaic" of engineering patterns is a sample of what President Hoover sketches in a preoccupied manner when he is being interviewed. This paper of drawings was salvaged from a wastebasket at the end of a conference with the President by an unnamed interviewer, who obtained the Chief Executive's autograph. A New York autograph dealer obtained it and placed it on sale at a price representing a fair portion of the President's annual salary.

Having received honors from a mournful Nation, the earthly remains of James W. Good, respected and revered Secretary of War, were returned to his home town of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, yesterday, for final tribute by those who knew him best. At 11 o'clock tomorrow, before a gathering of household funeral rites will be conducted by Dr. Harry Morehouse Gage, president of Coe College, the dead Secretary's alma mater.

The fourth passenger in the car, Violette Yearly, suffered fractures of both legs and is in the Coeburn Hospital in a serious condition. Shook and Yearly were killed outright and Shook died about 30 minutes later.

WILLIAM BURGESS IS TAKEN BY DEATH

Short Illness Proves Fatal to Man Assailed by Lobby Committee.

OFTEN SERVED NATION

William Burgess, 72 years old, former member of the United States Tariff Commission and representative of the Government on various occasions to conferences and on missions throughout the world, died yesterday at his home in Morris Heights, Morrisville, Pa., according to word received here last night.

Death came suddenly after his condition had been reported good during an illness contracted after his return to his home from his appearance in Washington early last week before the Senate lobby investigating committee. He was severely censured at that time by Senator T. H. Caraway, of Arkansas, chairman of the committee, who accused him of perjury and attempting to "frame" Frederick L. Koch, a pottery expert of the Tariff Commission. Senator Caraway declared that Mr. Burgess' acts approximated contempt of the Senate.

GRAND JURY NEARS M'PHERSON ACTION

Finding is Expected Today When Ballard Concludes Witness Parade.

DEFENSE FRIEND HEARD

A finding is expected in the McPherson case immediately after the grand jury hears one more witness today.

That the finding will be a new indictment of Robert A. McPherson, Jr., for first-degree murder of his estranged wife, Virginia Hurley McPherson, was confidently expected by the prosecution last night.

"Who says they will not indict? Don't count your chickens before they're hatched. Don't put yourself out on a limb with any prediction that the present grand jury will upset the action of its predecessor," remarked Thomas F. Cullen, special assistant to the Attorney General, when questioned last night regarding the possibility that the grand jury might clear the young bank clerk of complicity in the death of the attractive young nurse whose body, strangled with the cord of her pajamas, was found on the bedroom floor in her Park Lane apartment on September 14.

Beyond that, Cullen refused to discuss the case.

McPherson's attorney, William E. Leahy, on the other hand, is equally confident that his client will be exonerated and strongly upholds the opinion of one of the chief witnesses for the prosecution who, after emerging

Sinclair Leaves Jail Asserting Innocence

Oil Man Declares He Was Victim of Political Campaigns As He Finishes Term for Jury Shadowing and Senate Contempt.

Almost simultaneous with his release from the District Jail after six and a half months' imprisonment for jury-shadowing in the Fall-Sinclair trial and contempt of the Senate, Harry F. Sinclair, millionaire oil operator and tycoon, last night charged that he "was a victim of political campaigns to elect honest Democrats by proving how dishonest Republicans were," in a lengthy statement issued to the press.

Sinclair became a free man at midnight. Confined on May 8, the oil magnate was given 30 days off for good behavior, and the three months' term for refusing to answer questions of a Senate investigating committee in the Teapot Dome scandal was served concurrently with the sentence for jury-shadowing.

Declaring that he had been "railroaded to jail in violation of common sense and common fairness," the oil man said: "I cannot be contrite for sins I have never committed."

The statement reviews the history of the two offenses for which Sinclair was jailed and attempts to show that he was a victim of "political prejudice." The millionaire said he had "absolute confidence of final vindication in the public esteem."

Sinclair's statement in full follows:

"I have made no plans except to go to my home and then to my office. Naturally, my first thoughts are of my family, my associates and my

CONFERENCE HELD AFTER SHIP DOCKS

Exchange Signalizes His Homecoming by Show of Strength.

FINANCIER DIRECTED PARTNERS BY RADIO

Donates $1,000 to Memorial Fund for Upkeep of Ellen Terry Home.

New York, Nov. 20 (N.Y.W.N.S.)—J. P. Morgan told his partners in the house of J. P. Morgan & Co. today that he is "satisfied with the trend of business and the security markets and the extent in which confidence in the business structure has been restored."

Morgan, who had been in Europe since early summer, arrived on the Olympic and after a conference with Thomas W. Lamont, in his suite on the ship, proceeded to his office where his son, Junius, and others of the firm awaited him.

To reporters who met him at Quarantine he had nothing to say. To those who waited in his office he sent his "regards and respects," but had no statement to make.

Market Closes Strong.

The stock market signalled his return by continuing the marking up of prices which ranged from 1 to 12 points higher at the close. For the first time since August, 1928, call money was in supply at 5% per cent.

The market advance was orderly and was made in the face of considerable volume of profit-taking in purchases made during the panic, and the sale of not a little stock bought to support prices when they were crashing. Bonds were higher.

It is the practice of the Morgan partners to meet at 11 o'clock each day. Today's session was delayed until just before noon when the head of the house arrived. Just before 2 the partners went to lunch. The time after lunch until nightfall Morgan spent in conferences, in going over pending matters and disposing of things that had been allowed to wait pending his return.

There was not very much his partners could tell him of conditions, he having, as it was disclosed after his arrival, spent the last three weeks of his stay abroad in London in close communication by cable and wireless with his New York office. On board ship he was kept posted by radio.

Lamont Alone Sees Him.

"Mr. Morgan," it was said for him, "was in pretty close touch with affairs" was in pretty close touch with affairs.

DAWES, ADAMS, GIBSON AND MORROW ADDED TO U. S. NAVAL CONFEREES

NAVAL PARLEY DELEGATES

Appointments Fill Out Roll of Conferees to Seven.

ADAMS WILL BE HEAD OF TECHNICAL GROUP

Pratt and Jones Both Go as Advisers, Formal Statement Says.

DAWES VISITS FRANCE: GETS QUAI'S ATTITUDE

Ambassador Will Return to London Today! MacDonald and He End Parleys.

(Associated Press.)

President Hoover yesterday completed the American delegation to the London naval conference by appointing Charles Francis Adams, Secretary of the Navy, and Ambassador Charles G. Dawes, Dwight W. Morrow and Hugh S. Gibson.

This increases to seven the number of the American delegation. Henry L. Stimson, Secretary of State, already having been designated chairman, and Senators Reed, of Pennsylvania, and Robinson, of Arkansas, as members.

The State Department announced of the new appointments reiterated that Admiral William V. Pratt, commander in chief of the United States Fleet, and Rear Admiral Hilary P. Jones, retired, would be the chief naval advisers to the delegation. This disposed of various published reports that Admiral Jones would decline the President's appointment.

Adams as Technical Chief.

In his capacity as Secretary of the Navy, Adams would be expected to head the technical committee of the delegation, a place which Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., as Assistant Naval Secretary, held during the Washington arms conference in 1921. Admiral Pratt was a member of that committee and is the only one of the present American commission that was.

In naming seven members to the delegation, the President is believed to have assured representation in the conference sessions for the United States equal to that of the British Empire. The British delegation will be made up of one representative each from Canada, Australia, New Zealand, the Irish Free State and the Union of South Africa, in addition to those for Great Britain itself.

Ambassador Dawes was the personal spokesman for President Hoover in the long negotiations with Prime Minister MacDonald at London, which led to an agreement for naval parity as between the United States and Great Britain and a tentative understanding as to the classes of cruiser tonnage for the two leading naval powers.

Gibson is Veteran.

Besides acting in the role of adviser in those conferences, Gibson, the Ambassador to Belgium, headed the American delegation to the unsuccessful tripartite naval conference in Geneva in 1927 and also was the American delegate to the League of Nations' Preparatory Commission sessions in Geneva last spring.

In that capacity he put forward to the world the Hoover doctrine of evaluating relative naval strength through the medium of a "yardstick" having for its component measures armament, armored speed, armament radius and tonnage. It was on this basis that the London negotiations subsequently were initiated.

Designation of Ambassador Morrow came as something of a surprise in official Washington. However, during his two years at Mexico City he has gained a reputation as one of the foremost negotiators in the American Diplomatic Service. In addition he has been a careful student of world

SENATE TO ADJOURN PILOT DIES AS PLANE HITS NEW YORK ROOF

Tariff Bill Is Not Killed, All Leaders Insist as Resolution Carries.

HOUSE IS READY TO QUIT

(Associated Press.)

Overriding the "Young Guard" Republicans, the tariff-tired Senate voted yesterday to adjourn the special session tomorrow night for a week's respite before the regular congressional meeting in December.

A hitherto defiant House, whose leaders have been lending encouragement to the Senate "Young Guard" in blocking the adjournment, was prepared last night to accept today the adjournment without a tariff.

Convinced that the tariff measure had to go into the regular session of Congress whether the Senate met next week or not, the exasperated Senate leaders quickly smothered opposition when the self-styled "Hoover regulars" renewed their anti-adjournment stand.

Senator Walsh, of Montana, the acting Democratic leader, offered the adjournment resolution with brief comment. Democrats lined up almost solidly for it and Senator Jones, of Washington, acting Republican leader, supported it along with thirteen other Republicans of the Old and Fifty-ninth street.

problems, and his advice and counsel are expected to be of great value to the American delegates.

Cruisers Up to Conference.

London, Nov. 20 (N.Y.W.N.S.)—Ambassador Charles G. Dawes and Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald have agreed that there is nothing further for them to discuss regarding the forthcoming naval parity here as far as Anglo-American questions are concerned, the New York World News Service is reliably informed tonight.

This means that the outstanding differences between Washington and London, involving 30,000 tons of cruiser strength, is to be left for settlement at the conference itself. Any further conversations between Dawes and MacDonald will be concerned with matters of conference procedure and with the naval views of other powers attending the conference.

Suggestions from Paris indicating that the French delegation may propose to the conference abolition of battleships, or at least drastic reduction of battleship tonnage, are interpreted in official circles here as France's counter-offensive to the British proposal for the abolition of the submarine. Doubt is expressed in London as to whether it will be pressed.

Proposal Finds Some Favor.

On the other hand, there is a certain amount of technical opinion in this country favorable to the French idea. These technicians base their support of the French thesis on the alleged vulnerability of the battle ship to the submarine. They are supported by many aircraft enthusiasts, who maintain that no battleship will be able to save itself from destruction from the air in any future war.

In addition, a serious antibattleship offensive at the conference by France would be likely to receive the support of the members of the labor party, which views with favor any means of economizing in the fighting services in order to put the money thus saved into the social services which form such a large part of the party's domestic program.

Dawes Visits at Paris.

Paris, Nov. 20 (N.Y.W.N.S.)—When Charles G. Dawes, United States Ambassador to Great Britain, returns to London from Paris tomorrow, he will have a fairly clear idea of the French attitude toward the London naval parity.

Under cover of a visit to Gen.

Charles Marie Jean Payot, with whom he has enjoyed many hours talking over war times, during which both he and Gen. Payot were members of the allied military board of supply, he has also been able to learn the French position, which has not changed materially under the new government headed by Premier André Tardieu.

Among the tenets of French naval policy which Gen. Dawes can transmit to President Hoover, if that is his purpose in coming here, are the following: First, that the submarine must be righted; second, that she will insist that submarines are necessary to her defense, and, thirdly, that she will not accede to naval parity with Italy unless some agreement is reached between Paris and Rome prior to the London parity.

As there is an American Ambassador at Paris at present, and because of the leading role played by Gen. Dawes in arranging the five-power conference at London, the French naval authorities have taken occasion to provide him with information on France's naval parity, and have given him the assurance that his visit to Paris was not merely a return call on Gen. Payot, who visited Dawes in the United States last year.

Senators Called In Campaign Quiz

Legislative Group of Wisconsin Inquiring of Money Spent in 1924.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 20 (A.P.)—In an effort to determine the amount and sources of money used in Wisconsin campaigns since 1924, a legislative investigating committee today requested Senators Robert M. La Follette and James J. Blaine to appear for examinations in Washington.

The committee, which has been hearing witnesses in Milwaukee for the past two days, made the requests for the senators' testimony in order to obtain the expenditures of the candidates of the La Follette Progressive group in Wisconsin.

Richard H. Lee, New York attorney, who gave $5,000 to the La Follette campaign fund last year was asked to appear before the committee. D. C. Capt. William H. Stayton, former executive secretary of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, and W. T. Rawleigh, Freeport, Ill.

The editorial page of The Washington Post is probably more frequently quoted than that of any other newspaper. It is "the voice of the Post," and speaks with authority and influence for the public interest. Editorial opinions, however, are not allowed to color nor bias accurate reporting of the world's and local affairs.

BANK HEAD ADMITS SUGAR LOBBY AID

Contribution Was Given to Fund to Bring Lower Tariff.

BULLETIN IS DESCRIBED

How the National City Bank, of New York, one of the most powerful financial institutions of the world, loosed its purse strings to advocate lesser duties on sugar during the tariff dispute was related yesterday to the Senate lobby committee.

Suggestions from Paris indicating that the French delegation may propose to the conference abolition of battleships, or at least drastic reduction of battleship tonnage, are interpreted in official circles here as France's counter-offensive to the British proposal for the abolition of the submarine. Dawes Visits at Paris.

Paris, Nov. 20 (N.Y.W.N.S.)—When Charles G. Dawes, United States Ambassador to Great Britain, returns to London from Paris tomorrow, he will have a fairly clear idea of the French attitude toward the London naval parity.

Under cover of a visit to Gen. Charles Marie Jean Payot, with whom he has enjoyed many hours talking over war times, during which both he and Gen. Payot were members of the allied military board of supply, he has also been able to learn the French position, which has not changed materially under the new government headed by Premier André Tardieu.

Among the tenets of French naval policy which Gen. Dawes can transmit to President Hoover, if that is his purpose in coming here, are the following: First, that the submarine must be righted; second, that she will insist that submarines are necessary to her defense, and, thirdly, that she will not accede to naval parity with Italy unless some agreement is reached between Paris and Rome prior to the London parity.

DRY UNIT TO CHECK DENISON'S BAGGAGE

Rover Orders Quiz Into Grips of Indicted Member of Congress.

$2,000 BOND TO BE SET

An aftermath of denials made by John Lane, former secretary of Representative Edward E. Denison (Republican), of Illinois, that he was connected in any way with the seizure of whisky which resulted in the indictment of both of them Tuesday in charge of possession of liquor, United States attorney. A lawyer announced yesterday that it would ask the prohibition unit to make a further check-up to determine to whom the baggage belonged.

Denison, in published statements, said to have been made by him from his home in Marion, Ill., denied that his stepson, Charles Lane, had been with him on a trip to Panama and that the grip found in the local express office belonged to him.

The representative yesterday telephoned Attorney E. Hilton Jackson to make arrangements to represent him, Rover said.

Jackson is reported as having expressed amazement that the representative was indicted on a charge of possession of liquor, and is said to have declared that such a charge in the first place, go to a grand jury. Ordinarily such cases are handled in the Police Court.

Denison is expected to arrive in Washington Monday by motor car from his state attorney. While the United States attorney has not announced what sum will be asked it is expected that it will be at least $2,000.

Rover announced that the receipt in the hands of authorities is signed John H. Layne, per E. E. Denison.

Morgan Aids Terry Fund.

London, Nov. 20 (N.Y.W.N.S.)—J. P. Morgan has sent a check for $1,000 to Miss Edith Craig, daughter of the late Ellen Terry, for a fund for the purchase and upkeep of the latter's home in the country as a memorial to the great actress.

In a letter accompanying the check Morgan said he retained the most delightful memory of meeting Miss Terry at lunch during one of her tours a long time ago.

Morgan's contribution to the fund is the largest single donation received thus far, the next largest being one for $500 from a British peer. It is hoped to raise a total of $75,000, but in the twelve months since the appeal was first made only $10,000 has been received.

RUM SUSPECT HELD IN BROTHER'S DEATH

Alleged Moonshiner Found After Two-Day Search by Authorities.

ENGAGED PAIR GRILLED

Texarkans, Ark., Nov. 20 (A.P.)—John Rayburn, of Fouke, Ark., was arrested tonight in connection with the deaths of Arthur Matson, 28, and his son, Arthur, 19, who were found found in an abandoned well last Monday. Rayburn three years ago was acquitted of a statutory charge in connection with an alleged assault on the mother of the two slain youths.

Sheriff Magee and Deputy Prosecutor Cook announced Rayburn was the man they had searched for since the two bodies were found by a searching party. Sheriff Magee said Rayburn was the head of an alleged liquor manufacturing gang operating near Texark, Ark., 14 miles southeast of here.

Foss and his sweetheart, Mrs. Gena, 20, also are being held in connection with the slayings. Repeated questioning of the pair has brought little information as to the crime, the sheriff said.

Charles Matson, brother of the slain youth, was quoted by the sheriff as saying Cox and the two boys operated a still together. Fear they might "tip off" officers to Cox's business was described by the officer as a possible motive for the slayings. His investigation, the sheriff said him to believe, the Matson youths were killed at the still and their bodies taken in a truck to the well.

Taxi Driver Found Dead From Shot in Own Car

New York, Nov. 20 (A.P.)—A taxi cab driver was found shot to death in his cab early today, apparently by gangsters who took him for a ride in his own machine. He was identified by the police as Geraldo Heaman, 29 years old, a Cuban.

The Rev. Joseph R. Sizoo, pastor of the New York Presbytery, conducted the services. Good, 72, read the Twenty-third Psalm, and spoke the invocation, which ended with the Lord's Prayer.

The Rev. Mr. Sizoo stood a passage from the First Corinthian Epistles, adjourned immediately, and began as a mark of respect. The National Broadcasting System observed a one-minute pause at 11 o'clock; the American Red Cross chapter was closed until 1 p. m., and all flights at National Field and the American Naval Air Station were canceled during the morning.

Gov. Green of Michigan Urged for Good's Post

(Associated Press)

The name of Gov. Fred W. Green of Michigan will be presented to President Hoover by Senator Vandenberg of Michigan in consideration of the selection of a successor to the late Secretary Good, of the War Department.

Senator Vandenberg said yesterday he would propose the name of the general for the military service for Secretary Good. He added he realized the appointment was more in the nature of personal than a political one, but said he wanted the President to have before him Gov. Green's qualifications.

The Michigan Governor is national commander of the Spanish-American War Veterans.

Green Said to Be Willing.

Lansing, Mich., Nov. 20 (A.P.)—Gov. Fred W. Green of Michigan, whose name will be presented to President Hoover by Senator Vandenberg of Michigan in consideration of the selection of a successor to the late Secretary Good, of the War Department, according to Washington dispatches, is a close friend of the President and was one of the first governors to support Mr. Hoover for the Republican nomination.

The process was a marked contrast to the simple rites. With all branches of the service represented, the trip to the station offered an impressive sight of military splendor as the military escort, including cavalry and artillery units, infantrymen, marines and blue-clad sailors marched in grand formations ahead of the caisson bearing the casket. Limousines bearing the official delegations and governmental representatives followed.

Men on Street Bare Heads.

As the military cortège passed down Pennsylvania Avenue, the line of march was flanked by crowds, and men stood with bared heads as the caasket was borne by.

At the station the military units formed a hollow square and in silence saluted as the body of their former chief was carried to the presidential entrance. Members of the Cabinet and members of the Cabinet and followed by the guard of honor and high officials of the Army, it was taken to the special train.

The route of march by the military escort was that of the White House to Pennsylvania Avenue to First street, to B street, and thence to Delaware Avenue and the Union Station.

The President and Mrs. Hoover did not accompany the procession. The Chief Executive was represented by Lieut. Col. Campbell E. Hodges, who will be his personal representative at the funeral. Two of the President's secretaries, George Akerson and Walter H. Newton, also accompanied the body to the station, as did Secretary Adams of the Navy Department.

Mrs. Good, her family and close relatives boarded the train early.

Promptly at 8:15 o'clock, the special pulled out of Union Station, and the curtain dropped on the Nation's tribute to the late Secretary.

George Akerson, secretary to the President, announced that as a tribute to the late Secretary of War all White House social functions would be canceled for a period of 30 days. These include the diplomatic reception and the Cabinet dinner, which will be held in the White House. It made clear that this cancellation of social functions applied only to the White House, not the Capitol in general.

CURRENT EVENTS IN MARYLAND AND VIRGINIA

ARLINGTON HONORS STATE'S EXECUTIVE

David M. Crabill
Dies in Winchester

Civil War Veteran Succumbs Following Leg Amputation.

Special to The Washington Post.
Strasburg, Va., Nov. 20.—Funeral rites for David Milton Crabill, 82, Civil War veteran, prominent farmer in this section and for eight years commissioner of revenue in Shenandoah County, were held in the Toms Brook Lutheran Church this afternoon by his pastor, the Rev. Mr. Huddle. Mr. Crabill died Tuesday morning in Winchester Memorial Hospital where he had been receiving treatment for gangrene.

In an effort to prevent the spread of the disease the left leg was amputated and his condition was considered favorable. However, pneumonia developed, from which he was unable to rally.

During the war he was a member of Company D, Eighteenth Virginia Cavalry, under the command of Gen. J. C. H. Hill. The battle of Winchester, Hill, Virginia, which was fought within a few miles of his home, he was wounded in the left hip. Mr. Crabill was prominently identified with the Masonic order, being the oldest living member of Casside Lodge, No. 142, A. F. and A. M., Woodstock, at the time of his death. He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Mary C. Crabill, of Toms Brook, a granddaughter, Miss Madge E. Crabill, of Washington, and a grandson, Carl Crabill, Toms Brook.

While plans for the conference have not yet been completed, according to Executive Secretary R. F. Woodbridge, it was learned from William S. Hogan, member of the special committee on the arrangements for the conference, that the principal subject of discussion will be all problems of the state of the State of Virginia, its place in the State as to adequate approach to the new Memorial Bridge, which is rapidly nearing completion.

At the time Gov. Byrd visited the county as the guest of the chamber of commerce in October he expressed his desire to have the conference held in the county, especially as to the needed approach to the Memorial Bridge, and expressed willingness to call a special conference at his office with members of the National Capital Park and Planning Commission, the Virginia Park and Planning Commission, and the County Board of Supervisors, to discuss plans for the development of this section of Virginia, with particular attention to the construction of boulevards.

Among officials of the chamber of commerce it is not thought that the meeting which is being arranged for next Tuesday will take the place of the proposed Richmond conference.

The luncheon meeting held yesterday at the Washington Golf and Country Club with members of the membership committee of the Arlington County Chamber of Commerce and the board of directors resulted in much progress, according to a statement from Executive Secretary R. F. Woodbridge, last night.

Woodbridge stated that following the luncheon the group was divided into teams, and following an extensive canvass made among prospective members probably several new members will be recruited.

The board of directors will meet this afternoon in their headquarters in the Kress Building at Clarendon, at which time it is expected a full report will be prepared.

Meeting yesterday afternoon in the auditorium of the Cherrydale Firemen's Hall the Organized Women Voters of Arlington County accepted the report of the special committee who have investigated the need for a new county jail.

There was much discussion on the project and upon recommendations of the committee the secretary was instructed to send copy of report to the county board of supervisors which carry with it recommendations that a new jail be erected and, beginning with next year, funds be provided from a special levy covering a period of years for its erection.

A resolution was adopted calling upon Hugh Reid, member of the House of Delegates, to introduce a bill providing for an incorporation enabling, not as soon after the convening of the session as possible.

Owing to lack of time the reading of reports from special committees for and against incorporation and the offering of a resolution by Mrs. Florence E. Cannon calling upon the zoning commission to include in its ordinance a clause requiring the removal of all substandard houses in the community and to prohibit the erection of any excepting those not over 4 feet square, advertising goods manufactured and sold on the premises, were postponed until the adjourned meeting, which will be called early in December.

The board of the nominating committee as stored, three from each of the three districts, include the following members: Arlington District, Mrs. Joseph Haley, Mrs. Richard L. Hodge and Mrs. J. B. Lowell; Washington District, Mrs. Harry A. Fellows, Mrs. John C. H. Hill, Mrs. Frank C. Grindal, Jefferson District, Mrs. Margaret Bradford, Mrs. Claude S. Seaman and Mrs. Pauline A. Smith.

The election will take place at the Arlington Chapter, No. 39, Order of the Eastern Star, will hold a festive social and dance in the Cherrydale Firemen's Hall tomorrow night beginning at 8 o'clock.

There will be a meeting of Cherrydale Council, No. 11, Daughters of America, tomorrow night at the home of Mrs. Nettie Branson, 800 Park Lane, Cambridge.

Tomorrow night the Arlington County Zoning Commission will hold a public hearing in the old Cherrydale schoolhouse at 8 o'clock to explain the proposed zoning ordinance as it relates to the following sections lying within the Cherrydale Election Precinct: Dominion Heights, Maywood, Tuxedo and the western portion of Park Lane.

According to an announcement last night by Chairman Fred Gosnell, of the zoning commission, Monday night has been set as the date for the public hearing for Virginia Highlands and Aurora Hills section. The meeting will be held in the Jefferson District Firemen's Hall.

In making the announcement Gosnell stated that the second meeting is being held to meet the wishes of the people in that section who oppose the plans as explained at the recent meeting. Unless the date set by the commission conflicts with the will of the citizens in that section, he stated, it will be held as announced.

This being the last meeting of the executive committee of the Arlington County Civic Federation prior to the annual election next month the meeting plans have been completed for the business session to be prepared.

BOULEVARD WORK DELAYED FOR YEAR

Prince Georges Club Learns Funds for Widening Not Available Now.

MAN IS HELD FOR THEFT

No definite assurance as to when the Baltimore boulevard will be widened between Laurel and Hyattsville can be given at the present time. Chairman G. Clinton Uhl, of the Maryland State Roads Commission, informed the Exchange Club of Prince George's County yesterday that a letter read at a meeting of the club yesterday at College Inn, College Park.

Chairman Uhl stated that the roads commission is anxious to have the boulevard but is without funds for such work at present.

"We are having a survey made from Laurel to Hyattsville at this time," he wrote, "a distance of over 12 miles and it is the intention of this commission to widen the greater portion of this distance next year if possible to finance it."

The club had written to the commission asking for the road to be widened of the heavy traffic which is "bottle-necked" into a narrow road when the widening portion of the boulevard terminates at Laurel.

A report on the plans for the celebration of Rhode Island avenue extension December 7 was made by H. C. Fleming and William Connors, of the State Roads Commission.

Connors said that a considerable discussion was held on plans for participation by the club in the celebration.

It would cost you more than $1,500 to send letters to each person who buys The Washington Post every day. The average price also established a new seasonal high of $21.62 per 100 pounds.

Buyers said that the large volume was disposed of because the piles of leaf were heavier than those displayed up until now. Light conditions also were favorable. The glut continued here, with the remaining plants working day and night.

SOVIET LAUNCHES DRIVE

Hankow, Nov. 20 (A.P.)—Nationalist military authorities admitted tonight that the maximum of "people's army" had revolted against the government had achieved a sharp advance from Shangyang and Fancheng in the Hupel province areas both eastward and southward.

The rebels, said Nationalist officers, had advanced eastward as far as Fancheng, 30 miles from Shangyang, while southward on the Han River, the Kuomintang had reached Ichang, which also is 30 miles from Shangyang and 150 miles direct from the important Yangtze River port.

The rebels' occupation of Ichang placed the government near their Yangtze objective while their approach to Tsoyang situated them 90 miles from the Kinsham Railway, their second objective.

New Troops Sent.

As a result of the apparently rapid approaching crisis in Hupel, which is displacing Honan as the center of activities, the Nationalist government tonight was dispatching every available soldier into North-Central Hupel province, in an effort to save the Kiangnan.

Isolated military units along the Yangtze, such as those at Shensi and Ichang in Hupel Province and at smaller places, were ordered northward, while from the Kinsham Railway reinforcements from Honan Province were moved westward toward Tsoyang.

The Nationalists stated that their forces in Hupel total 100,000, "which are more than sufficient to crush the Kuomintang." The Kuomintang forces in Hupel are estimated at a total of 60,000. However, a considerable portion are considered bandits and civilians gathered from Honan and Hupel in the hope of procuring a livelihood by possible looting.

Rebels Capture Division.

The Kuomintang rebels are reported to have executed a rush at Lan-hukou, Hupel Province, Saturday. They partially evacuated the city, causing a Nationalist division to advance to occupy the place. This resulted in the rebel troops capturing the entire division, which is bottled up in Lan-hukou.

With the capture of Shangyang, the Kuomintang acquired considerable Nationalist foodstuffs and ammunition badly needed.

Despite the Hupel situation, which is characterized by hourly calmness prevails here, although a feeling of tenseness is apparent.

Shanghai, Nov. 20 (A.P.)—Canton dispatched tonight reported that Kwang-fu rebels, coupled with Gen. Chang Pak-wei's "iron-siders" troops, who are in northern Kwangtung province, again are menacing Canton.

To Blockade River.

The Cantonese government, in order to prevent a possible rebel advance down the West River from Kwangtung, announced that, effective tomorrow, the river would be blockaded and closed to commercial traffic. The blockade will extend from Canton to Wuchow, Kwangtung.

As a result of this move, the American general in Canton warned that American shipping not to attempt to use the West River.

Chang Pak-wei, whose whereabouts were not disclosed, telegraphed the Canton Chamber of Commerce to cease paying taxes to the present government, "as I soon intend to establish new levies and present levies will not be considered."

Soviet Attacks Continue.

Shanghai, Nov. 20 (A.P.)—Dispatches today from Harbin, Manchuria, to the Kuomintang, Nationalist government news agency, stated that Soviet attacks continued on both the western and eastern Manchurian frontiers, along the Chinese Eastern Railway.

Soviet infantry and artillery, it was stated, also "Mongolian units, Soviet officers," were harassing the western frontier.

Planes Are Active.

Bombing airplanes were reported active at Manchuria, on the border of Manchuria and Siberia, having dropped 200 bombs since November 18. They destroyed the wireless station, inflicting huge damage.

Soviet attacks continued upon Pogranichny, on the eastern frontier of Manchuria, said the dispatches, the attack principally consisting of air-borne raids.

A Japanese dispatch from Harbin stated:

"Soviet artillery yesterday destroyed Chinese trenches at Manchuria, killing 500 Chinese. Chalahor and Taikang were severely bombed by Soviet air-planes."

ing and sleeping and her relations with him shall be on a basic a biological specimen.

She states further that her husband has beaten and dragged her about, and that on one occasion when their young son attempted to take her part, the husband threatened to kill him even going so far as to load a gun since he was restored, she said, only after the son, who had fled, returned with two police men.

The wife asserts that the husband in his way is associated with a number of young women and that he has imposed upon them his discrediting biological subjects and relations and aspects and conditions and "making applications of same to himself and to them." She asserts that he has been so refined and educated with them as to give her what she thought was good ground for suspicion.

Continuing on this line, the wife asserts that her husband's treatment of the young women "has been carried on for a long time and they do not remain long working or staying with him and some of them, she declares, have told her about his suggestions or biology as applying to relations between certain of them and him." These detailed assertions, the wife says, "are along the line of suggestions of similar kind as those made to her in seeking to have their relations determined and controlled from a biological standpoint."

The wife alleges that despite her protest her husband insists on keeping live birds and animals in the house and that they are continuously offensive in their presence and render the house sometimes almost unbearable and filthy.

SINCLAIR QUILTS DISTRICT JAIL AT MIDNIGHT; HIS TERM OVER

the penalties for contempt were in places of punishment for some other offense with which I was charged but exonerated by a jury.

"The basis of the Senate contempt case was my refusal to answer ten questions. The law requires questions pertinent to a proper legislative inquiry to be answered. Such questions do not invade the constitutional rights of the citizen.

Followed Counsel's Advice.

"My attorneys advised me to decline to answer these questions as not pertinent, as unconstitutional. I did not cause them to appear at an attempt to deny had a fair trial by discarding my defense in other cases pending before the courts. On advice of counsel I declined at that time to answer the ten alleged questions. Only on one of these questions was I held guilty of contempt.

"Senators Walsh said to me 'I wish you would tell us about that,' referring to the testimony of another witness. I declined to answer. His 'wish' was not a question and was not then pertinent.

"Six of the remaining questions were thrown out by the trial court and three of the remaining four were ignored by the Supreme Court.

Contingency Held Judicial Matter.

"The trial court and the Supreme Court both held that the pertinency of any question was a judicial matter which could only be determined by a court. It therefore, logically follows that not only was the witness' testimony not pertinent, but I declined to answer, but was unknownable. I was, therefore, punished ex post facto on an unknown rule of law.

"I followed my attorney's advice in good faith. My total evidence before the Senate committee was approximately 175,000 words, and I was imprisoned for my refusal to answer one question whose pertinency was unknown. Three times I appeared before the committee after this occurrence and no question of pertinent or not pertinent asked me ever rendered unanswered. This should have purged me of the pretended contempt.

"The prosecution of the Senate contempt case was moved by political prejudice and misunderstanding. A citizen has rarely been denied the protection of the law, and has been subjected to such violence and animosity as was exhibited in my case.

Reporters' Jailing Cited.

"I note that the American press generally disapproves committing to jail the three reporters who have been in Washington to disclose to the grand jury the persons from whom they bought liquor in the many speakeasies which they visited as a newspaper enterprise. They were given 48 days in jail. They justify themselves on the ground of newspaper ethics against a betrayal of confidence, and the American press is supporting them.

"The liberties of the American people are of such importance that the press will do well to keep this in mind in their like manner. The principle is much more important than the individual. The precedents set in my case are against the interests of the American people. If politics can railroad me to jail, it can railroad others.

"In the contempt of court case, the trial judge turned the jury loose in a hostile atmosphere in Washington, where the newspapers were assailing me. I had reason to believe the jury might be tampered with to my disadvantage, so I directed Burns operatives to watch the jury to prevent or expose tampering with the explicit instruction not to speak to approach or let a juror know he was under observation. This instruction was rigidly carried out. All the operative gave testimony to that effect and the jury members stated that they were not aware of being under observation.

Justice Not Obstructed.

"This act could not possibly have obstructed justice, the Supreme Court did not say that I had obstructed justice, but in order to sustain the lower court they found that putting the jury under surveillance had a tendency to obstruct justice. The law which forbids a judge to impose a sentence of contempt except for misbehavior which is wilful, was thus changed by judicial interpretation.

"I offered to prove to many witnesses that the Government of the United States and private persons had been buying liquor with the knowledge of the court and by officials of the courts without rebuff. Proof was offered that this practice had been engaged in the very courtroom where I was being tried and by the law office of the district attorney who was proceeding to charge against me, but the court refused to accept it to present this evidence either in defense or in mitigation of sentence.

"I attach to this statement only two of the many affidavits proving this practice and usage.

Two Others Were Free.

"The trial judge did not imprison or rebuke Raymond Akers and Donald King, who deliberately tampered with Jurymen Kidwell with the result of a mistrial.

"The trial judge did not punish William J. McMullen, who was planted in the Burns Agency and who operated to my personal prejudice. He made six false reports on November 3 the Herald boastingly declared it was responsible for having made a mistrial unavoidable.

BABSON IS ASSAILED BY GROUP IN SENATE

Coalition Members Unite in Bitter Attack on Wall Street Statistician.

BORAH LEADS ASSAULT

"I think the imprecision imposed upon me was in violation of common sense and common decency. I have paid the penalties without complaint and have made no personal appeal for sympathy. I do not need sympathy, but I do need and entitled as man of honor and integrity who fully recognises his obligations to respect the statute law, the rules of the courts, and the ethical rules of society."

"I have a family with whom I have spent many enforced vacations have been just and fair. I thank them and leave with them my good wishes."

Bielaski Arduavil Cited.

One of his affidavits quoted by Mr. Sinclair in his statement was made on August 22, 1929, by A. Bruce Bielaski, formerly Chief of the Bureau of Investigation of the Department of Justice.

Senators Walsh, of Montana, the acting Democratic leader; Glass, of Virginia; George, of Georgia, and Hefflin, of Alabama, all Democrats, joined the assault. There were indications last night that Babson might be called before the lobby committee along with Fred L. Kent, a director of the Bankers Trust Co., who made a similar charge against the Senate coalition and attributed the stock market collapse to it.

However, Chairman Caraway of that committee said he had received no request for Babson's appearance.

Denying a statement by Babson that Congress adjourned in the 1914 financial crisis and gave full powers to President Wilson, Senator Walsh declared:

"The purpose of making a point, joining in a hue and cry against the Congress of the United States, and particularly against the Senate of the United States, is perfectly willing to put out such perfectly false statements concerning him."

Senator Babson, who came here from Germany with his wife to seek his fortune in motion pictures, was accused of refusing to converse with her and absenting himself from their home without offering explanations.

Senator Glass, a former Secretary of the Treasury, suggested the Babson statement is simply a part of a concerted effort to direct attention away from those responsible for this disaster and to give it a different color.

Senator Babson interposed that he was "utterly unreliable as to facts and utterly unsound as to opinions."

"Whatever prestige he once had," continued the Idahoan, "and whatever position he once occupied, he has lost it by reason of his willingness to serve certain interests and to prostitute his intellect for certain purposes."

Babson is Bitter.

"Notice his subtle dispositions, his mischievous ways, his way of saying that the stock market has crashed because of our being here," said the Idahoan.

Senator Hefflin described Babson as the tool and instrument of predatory interests.

"He said that 'no doubt those who hired him made him issue that statement.'

Senator Barkley (Democrat), Kentucky, insisted that Babson had predicted a stock market crash even before the Senate began consideration of the tariff bill.

Senator George said Babson spoke as "paid lobbyist" to him, the statements of Babson and Kent, Senator George said he looked for a collapse of the "high speculative gambling" on the New York Stock Exchange, "which the Federal Reserve Board has done but little to control."

The Babson article also brought a reaction from Senator George, the Democratic Garner of Texas, the Democratic leader, said in a statement through the Democratic national committee that "to be logical Mr. Babson should have directed his efforts against Congress and the President, whom he greatly admires, rather than against legislators who are trying to bring order out of the chaos into which the country was plunged because of the tariff raid."

Emphasizing the gloomy factions that have been in Congress on the tariff bill, Garner said that "every one of the factions has announced that it is carrying out the President's will."

"Whose fault is it that amid these difficulties for a change of public opinion, we have no authoritative voice to advise the country where the President really stands?" he asked.

The statement which drew their fire, published in an interview with Babson in the Washington Post and "in the interest of the public," was made by Senator George in a speech to the Senate on October 23, a few hours after Jackie Thompson was arrested in his home.

Judge Bartlett ordered the selection of a jury to hear the case after he overruled motions by Verne C. A. Adams, defense counsel, that the case be continued until tomorrow and that some other judge than Judge Bartlett should hear the case.

The latter motion was based on the fact that Judge Bartlett had sat as examining magistrate when Thompson was first brought in.

Five women and seven men were tentatively selected when the court adjourned this noon.

Justice Not Obstructed.

"This act could not possibly have obstructed justice, the Supreme Court did not say that I had obstructed justice, but in order to sustain the lower court they found that putting the jury under surveillance had a tendency to obstruct justice. The law which forbids a judge to impose a sentence of contempt except for misbehavior which is wilful, was thus changed by judicial interpretation.

GO AHEAD!

The most important conference of the series through which President Hoover hopes to renew confidence in American prosperity is scheduled for today. The President will meet with leaders in the fields of manufacturing and industry. The reaction of this group will provide a key to the immediate economic future of the country. If the industrial chiefs of the Nation guarantee that production will not be curtailed, that employment and wages will remain steady, there will be less danger of a period of depression.

The special importance of today's conference arises from the fact that industry has been the doubtful element in the present situation. All summer long Congress has been tinkering with the tariff, constantly threatening industrial prosperity. Economic experts consider this the chief reason why confidence has been shaken. Railroads and banks were threatened only indirectly. The brunt of the shake-up has been borne by industry.

The United States is an industrial country. Its continued prosperity is dependent upon the success of its factories. With its unlimited resources and its genius for quantity production, America has become the greatest exporting nation in the world. That position can be maintained only by supremacy in the industrial field. If industry is allowed to go into a slump because of psychological reaction to the stock market crash and the tariff fiasco, the whole country will suffer.

An excellent foundation has been laid for this conference with industrial leaders. Railroad executives have given assurance that their programs of expansion will be pushed forward with expenditure of at least $1,000,000,000. The Federal Reserve Board indicates that a reduction in interest rates is in sight, so that industrial development will not be hampered by any lack of capital. Another note of reassurance has come, although tardily, from Postmaster General Brown. Apparently the deadlock over mail contracts has been broken and extensive plans of American shipping companies can be carried out. If the shipyards of the country are filled to capacity within six months, as Mr. Brown predicts, benefits will accrue to both the shipbuilding industry and foreign commerce, and hence to the whole country.

Improved railroad and shipping facilities, lower money rates and Government building all tend to stabilize conditions, but the combination is incomplete without industrial prosperity. Extension of transportation facilities can not long continue unless the patronage of industry likewise grows. Agriculture can not possibly flourish if its markets in the great manufacturing centers are destroyed. Industry is the economic axis on which the progress of the whole country hinges.

The men who have been summoned to the White House realize the full significance of their position. They know that there is nothing wrong with the producers of the country. Knowing that the economic fabric is fundamentally sound, these men will no doubt lend their influence to the movement to reassure the people. If they succeed, buying will be stimulated, production will be increased, and the country will forge ahead in spite of gambling losses and the impotence of Congress.

President Hoover's conferences have already brought tangible results. The stock market has steadied down to routine, and prices are returning to normal. Adjournment of Congress is an assurance that political treason will do no further mischief. The public now knows the worst, and is eager to sweep away the rubbish and go ahead.

THE PEOPLE BETRAYED.

The curtain rings down upon the extra session of Congress, leaving the Senate a subject of hissing and execration. It began its descent when the rule providing for the popular election of senators became effective, and it has reached the lowest stage of its history. The time has arrived when a patriotic citizen serving in the United States Senate must apologize for the company that he is in.

The will of the people as expressed at the polls, the faithful proposal of the President to make the popular will the law of the land, and the pledge of senators to enact tariff legislation have all been flouted. Many individuals in the Senate have violated pledges in a manner which would not be tolerated in business or social matters. They have dishonored their own names and are no longer entitled to the confidence of the public.

Groups of senators, for combined selfish and partisan reasons, have violated personal and party pledges. As a group they are no longer entitled to public respect or confidence.

The Democratic party as a political organization has placed politics before patriotism. It has trifled with and helped to destroy the confidence upon which the welfare of the people depends. To the extent of its ability, in cooperation with renegades professing to be Republicans, it has contributed to the hard times that now confront the country, by failing and refusing to vote for protection of American industry, agriculture and labor. Industries that are subjected to cut-throat foreign competition are left defenseless as a result of this betrayal of Republican and Democratic platform pledges.

The increased protection to American farmers which was pledged by both the Republican and Democratic parties has been denied. The farmers have been betrayed by Democrats and insurgents. No doubt a few senators will try to cover up this treachery in postmortem speeches before adjournment, but nothing can change the record. The senators who set themselves up as special champions of the farmers are responsible for the failure to obtain tariff relief for agriculture.

The Senate, rendered impotent by Democratic and insurgent violations of party pledges, votes to adjourn. It was fitting that the motion should be made from the Democratic side. The insurgents voted against adjournment, and doubtless they will point to this fact when angry farmers call them to account. Their vote against adjournment did no good. It was as ineffective as the pitiful and abortive fascism of the Republican goslings who awoke to their duty when it was too late.

By adjournment the Senate makes certain that its members will collect mileage for the hypothetical journey to their homes and back to Washington. What has Congress done at this extra session, that its members are entitled to their salaries and mileage? The cost of the session is added to the people's tax bill. Every silly speech and every treacherous political move has been at the expense of the taxpayers.

The entire country blames the Senate for its faithlessness. No excuses can bring public exoneration for the failure to conserve the country's welfare. Faithful as well as faithless senators are apt to feel the lash of public resentment.

The Republican party must purge itself of traitors if it is to retain the confidence of the people. Truckling to party treason has helped to bring about hard times. The people will not stand for destruction of their prosperity by either incompetent or faithless politicians.

As the pinch of adversity strikes one voter after another who has had nothing to do with Wall street gambling he will strike back at every one in Congress who in his opinion has contributed to the betrayal of protection to American industry, agriculture and labor.

COST OF PROHIBITION.

The report of the Prohibition Bureau, showing that arrests and convictions under the Federal antiliquor laws have decreased since the appropriation for enforcement was increased, will be variously interpreted. From some quarters the failure to keep arrests and convictions up to standard will bring criticism. In other circles it will be hailed as evidence that the country is becoming drier. But it takes a stretch of the imagination to draw from the report an argument for still higher appropriations for the Prohibition Bureau.

The report reflects primarily a change in policy. Exports from Canada are shown to be only approximately half what they were in 1928. With such an improvement it is only fair to assume that arrests and convictions under the liquor laws would be fewer. The Government has specialized on important cases, trying to cut off the sources of supply rather than arrest every person with a flask on his hip. This change of policy makes it quite possible for every first-rate American business slogan ever coined.

Prohibition agents to do excellent work without making as many arrests as formerly. Commissioner Doran refers to the results of the bureau's recent activities as an improvement in the "quality" of enforcement. Senator Harris, of Georgia, is preparing to demand more money for the Prohibition Bureau at the regular session of Congress. It is not quite certain how the facts of the report will be shaped into an argument to support this proposal, but indications are that the activities of recent months will be acclaimed in an effort to show what can be done when Congress opens the national purse to the Prohibition Bureau. As the supply of liquor diminishes conviction of bootleggers becomes more difficult and requires more money. Additional appropriations still further reduce the liquor supply, and still greater funds are required. In the end taxes would have to be increased and all Government revenue poured into the prohibition pot because the country was so dry.

The only logical conclusion that can be gathered from the report is that the Government is beginning to realize that its proper function in dealing with the liquor traffic is prevention of imports, interstate shipments and wholesale manufacture. When police duties are properly relinquished to the States, the cost of prohibition to the Government should be diminished and not increased.

UNDER WHICH FLAG?

When Secretary Stimson tentatively decided to choose a British ship instead of a ship flying the Stars and Stripes to carry the American delegation to the London naval conference next January he expressed disappointment because an American vessel was not available.

It now develops that the United States Lines is making special arrangements to place the George Washington at the disposal of Secretary Stimson and the American delegation, with a maximum of convenience, ample reservation of the best space on the vessel, and accommodation along whatever lines the delegation desires. The ship will be in service, in tip-top condition, on January 8, and her arrival in Europe will be timed to suit the convenience of the delegation. The George Washington was selected by President Wilson on his trips to and from the Paris peace conference, and the two suites occupied by the former President would be available to Mr. Stimson. It remains only for the Secretary to decide under which flag he wishes to travel.

Dad's Day at the University of Illinois ended with a liquor raid and arrests. No one can say that the Illinois students lag behind the times.

The Federal Radio Commission, with $300 on hand with which to meet a $15,000 pay roll, knows how Old Mother Hubbard felt.

LINKING UP SLOGANS

By ALAN McDONALD,
In the New York World.

Prosperty may long since have blown the top off the commercial thermometer, but just the same there's a horrendous slump in the slogan market. Not in many moons has there arisen over the country any such flock of pocketbook blasters as "Say It With Flowers," "I'd Walk a Mile for a Camel," "Keep That Schoolgirl Complexion," "Not a Cough in a Carload" and the like.

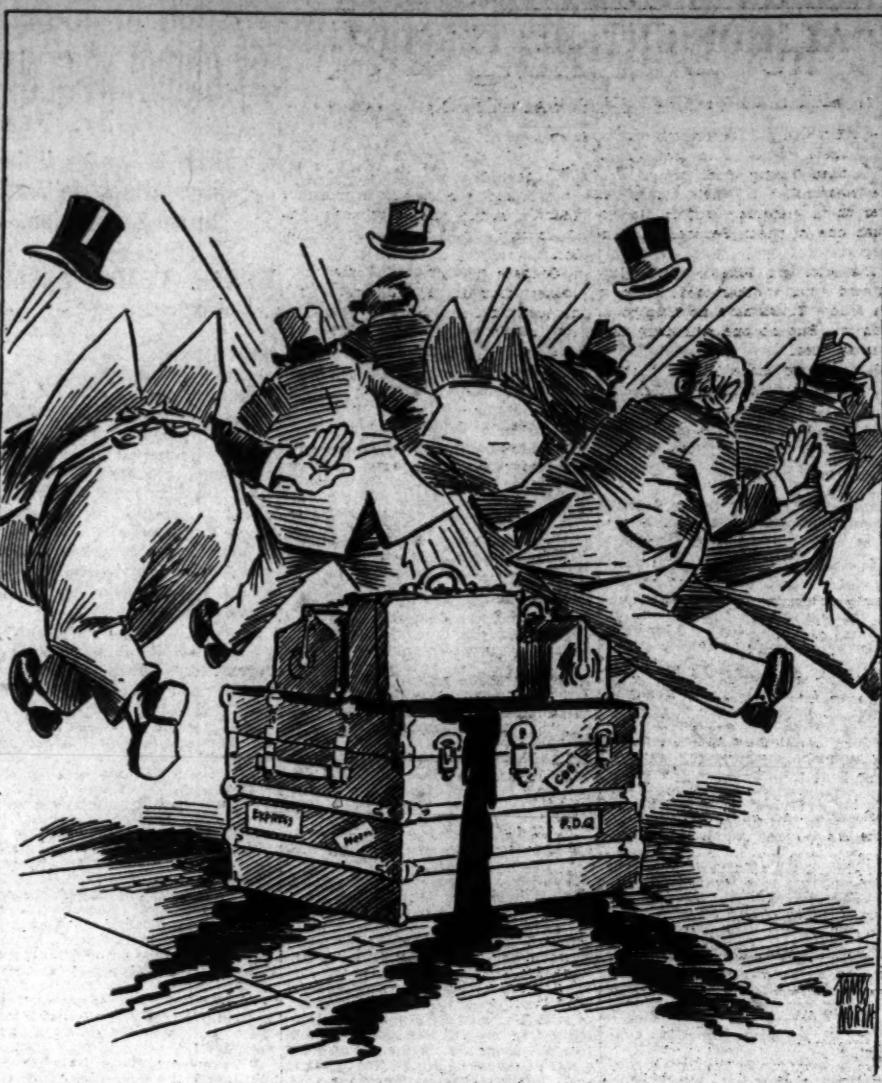

Curiously enough, slogans that bring in the shelves year by year are as much a matter of chance, the history of the most potent ones proves, as a good batch of home brew. Ad writers are forever striving to turn out coin-catching epigrams for their clients, but sales phrases with the cadence you can't forget remain about one-half of 1 per cent. Apparently, contests you read about don't produce them, because hardly a one of the old nationally known standbys is the child of a big prize. They simply crop up here and there. Sometimes it's an advertising genius who snaps off the humdinger that means millions; again, somebody else. Some of the phrase makers share in the profits, but often they do not even get a bow.

Not even a bow was, in fact, once the reward of even so trenchant a phrase maker as the late President Roosevelt. Every one knows the Rooseveltian brand of spurned expletive, such as "The Big Stick," "The Ananias Club," and such rippers as John Hay's "Perdicaria alive, or Ratsall dead." They got the country going, and in T. R.'s time the slogan makers fairly effervesced. But T. R. didn't stop there. He tossed off one of the world's best and longest-lived of all the trade war cliches.

This happened in the fall of 1907. The former President was back from one of his famous South American hunting forays. On the way to Washington he stopped off at Nashville to do honor to the Hermitage, once the home of Andrew Jackson and a national shrine. A great reception was held in his honor. Teddy was in fine fettle. At dinner he quaffed one cup of coffee with appetizing gusto and asked for another. This was brought. With characteristic vigor he drained the cup.

"Good, Mr. President?" queried a courtier. "Good to the last drop!" smacked T. R. Joel O. Cheek, a coffee merchant, was present. The phrase stuck in his mind. Through him it became the slogan of Maxwell House coffee. To this day you see it in practically every advertising medium. But, needless to say, T. R. never received a cent for his inspiration.

There are many advertising men who still believe that one Herbert G. Palen, who died about two years ago, coined "Say It With Flowers." Palen was known to every advertiser in the country, quite probably, and is said to have made $100,000 a year as a slogan. No one before or since has ever been so successful in so unique a profession. He talked in slogans, his words naturally falling into rhythmic, epigrammatic phrases. His office was in his hat. Typewriter in hand, for years he made a practice of traveling about the country offering slogans to advertisers. He would walk in, proclaim himself and say: "I'll write you ten slogans. If you like 'em you pay me $200. If you don't we throw 'em in the wastebasket." And with perfect aplomb he would do just that. There are those who say "Herb" Palen was basically responsible for every first-rate American business slogan ever coined.

Girls Learn Quickly.

Cincinnati Enquirer: We used to talk a lot about the power of a woman's tears, but modern wives have learned the trick of wasting tears—and they get a heap more, too!

Ho, Hum.

Liberal News: Columnists poked just as much fun at the hobble skirt, the bustle and the hoop skirt, in their day, as they do now at the short skirts and bare legs. As far as the women are concerned the difference is somewhat wider spread. Then they suffered both from the garments and the jokes, now they are annoyed only by the columnists.

THE ONCE OVER

By H. L. PHILLIPS

PRESIDENT HOOVER AND THE BUSINESS CONFERENCE.

Sixth I. L.—I got that way holding the motors for a rally.

President—Well, it won't do. I can't have any of you gentlemen participating in these conferences with long faces.

Sixth I. L.—Is my face too long for the purpose in mind?

President—Much too long. I should say you would have to shorten it by at least six inches.

Sixth I. L.—I could never shorten it.

President—Well, you'll have to shorten it considerably. How about five inches?

Sixth I. L.—Four inches is the best I can do now.

President—You and that other gentleman with the long face will have to shorten them five inches between now and the time the official photographs are taken. It would ruin everything if you got on the front page of the newspapers looking like you do now.

Sixth I. L.—Really, Mr. President, you ought not to set yourself up as a critic of long faces. You're not any too cheering you know.

Second I. L. (sharply)—No harsh words about Mr. Hoover's presidential countenance. Think what we'd be up against if we had to restore confidence with Mr. Coolidge's!

President—I'm going to do the best I can with my face and I want all the boys to do the best they can with yours. We must look cheery.

President—We've got to get together in a concerted pessimism-dispelling drive. Now, of course, to do that we must all be optimists and look happy and confident. Now then, all together, a nice long smile!

President (dissatisfied)—That won't do, boys. I want a real honest-to-goodness smile. Put some feeling into it. Come, more now.

(They do a little better.)

President—That's better. Now that's enough for today. I want you to practice smiling every night and we'll all get together again tomorrow morning for another try. And remember I want your best smile. And no sickly grins, understand?

(Curtain falls.)

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Did Republicans Make Headway in South by Seeming to Be a White Man's Party? Last Election Throws Doubt Upon This Theory.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Mr. Arnold, of Florida, a high priest in the neo-Republican of the South, has suggested uniting the hue of the great political rivals, either by blackening the Donkey or whitening the Elephant. The latter expedient was adopted. The last dash of the whitewash brush was applied during the late presidential campaign. The noble experiment, as the phrase runs, seemed to succeed, in that it split the solid South. But whether this success was due to the injected issues of "Run and Roman" or to the ill-white mantle of the old-time true blue G. O. P. is still a matter of heated debate. The recent election occurred while Gov. Smith was erecting a skyscraper in New York and Bishop Cannon was on an

FARM BOARD AIMS TOLD TO FARMERS

McKELVIE Declares Intention
Is to Put Agriculture on Level With Industry.

EXPORT VALUE IS CITED

Omaha, Nebr., Nov. 20 (A.P.)—Samuel R. McKelvie, member of President Hoover's Farm Board, tonight told the National Farmers' Educational and Cooperative Union that the board in carrying out its program to aid agriculture must, in many cases, cut squarely across lines that long have been established in dealing with farm products.

The grain representative said it was logical "that we should turn part of our farm factories to new uses and turn the products of these farms to other new uses so that we shall become a wholly domestic consuming country."

"In exports there are valuable markets open to us," he said. "We should make the best use of these markets. It is not too much to expect that these things can be done for agriculture, and the Federal Farm Board hopes to give impetus and leadership to that kind of program."

Outline of the farm relief program which, he said, would place agriculture on a level of economic equality enjoyed by industry and organized labor, the former Nebrascans governed listed four methods by which the board expected to accomplish its purpose.

They were: By minimizing speculation, by preventing inefficient and wasteful methods of distribution; by promotion, establishment and financing of a farm marketing system of producer-owned and producer-controlled organizations and other agencies; and by aiding in preventing and controlling supplies in any agriculture commodity.

"Speculation in farm commodities and food products has been rife," he said. "Gamblers in the market who never produced, handled or processed a bushel of grain, have exercised a wholly unnatural influence upon prices from day to day, and have contributed nothing to the natural flow

The Listening Post

By CARLISLE BARGERON

ONE would not have thought that there would be an idea left in the steamroller of their elders ran over them yesterday, but it did not crush one of them, Senator Vandenberg.

The Michigan senator came right forward with another idea, his own. His fellow Turks have nothing to do with it. But no one will deny that it is an idea.

The senator made known that he intends to recommend Gov. Green of Michigan for Secretary of War. That is an idea with ramifications. In fact, it is hard to see that quite any other ideas would have as many as this one.

It so happens that the governor wants to run for the Senate next year against Senator Coughlin. Furthermore, that he is determined to do this. And he is said to have greatly entrenched his political position as the result of the recent Detroit mayoralty election.

The Klan and dry elements carried everything and while the governor managed not to become personally involved in the campaign, its outcome is said to have found all his friends in the city's key political positions.

The governor is a friend of the President and undoubtedly his name is advanced it will receive considerable consideration. But whether the President will appoint him and thus remove Senator Coughlin's opponent is another thing.

The question also arises as to whether Vandenberg would like to see this done.

Neither is there any criticism, necessarily of the policy, except that it has not clicked with Mr. Green. Statements as to what was done about the South. The only worthwhile point here, however, is that it has caused a lot of wailing and gnashing of teeth.

It is, though, wholly improbable that the President might want to shift him to the War Secretarship.

There is the suggestion that the President would like to get Brown out of the political mess he is in in the Postoffice Department. For one thing, he has been the storm center in the Southern patronage controversy, and also one in his withholding of mail contracts from the United States Lines.

It is obvious that he has carried out Mr. Hoover's policies in both of these matters, certainly in that concerning the mail contracts. In the Southern patronage situation the belief is that it has been more his policy, one which he undoubtedly sold to the President, instead of the policy originating with the President.

EVENTS OF INTEREST IN SOCIETY CIRCLES OF CAPITAL

White House
Is in Mourning
For Mr. Good

All Social Engagements are Canceled for 30-Day Period.

By JEAN ELIOT.
ANNOUNCEMENT was made yesterday at the White House that, out of respect to the memory of the late Secretary of War, Mr. James W. Good, the President and Mrs. Hoover would cancel their social engagements for a period of 30 days. This will mean the postponement of the diplomatic reception, which was to have been held on December 5, and of the Cabinet dinner, set for December 12.

Consequently the first White House hospitality on the program of official entertaining will be the New Year reception. The other functions will be held on the dates originally announced, with the cancelled dinner and reception inserted whenever convenient dates can be found. They will not, however, be held in the Christmas holiday season, for which the President and Mrs.
Hoover have declared a moratorium on official entertaining.

Secretary Good was the President's close friend as well as his political lieutenant in his campaign for the Presidency and a valued member of the family circle of official entertainment. So this tribute is an expression of personal sorrow as well as of official respect.

The Secretary of State and Mrs.
Stimson have also abandoned whatever entertaining they had planned for the third day of official mourning for Secretary Good, and have withdrawn from all festivities of an official character. The dinner which they had arranged for tonight has been cancelled and among the festivities in their honor, which have been postponed, are an afternoon tea at which the Cuban Ambassador and Senator Ferrara were to have given tomorrow evening and a dinner on Saturday at which the Minister of Hungary and Countess Szchenyi were to have been hosts.

Presumably Mr. Good's other colleagues of the Cabinet, several of whom have already announced cancellation of proposed festivities, will follow the lead of the Secretary of State and take no part in official entertaining for the next four weeks.
Although no formal announcement has yet been made, it is almost probable that the ladies of the Cabinet group will not be at home on the Wednesday afternoons of December as they had intended.

Vice President Curtis and his sister, Mrs. Edward Everett Gann, are breaking their engagements and the period of mourning will have no effect through all strata of official society.

The Italian Ambassador, Nobilio
Giacomo de Martino, will go to Philadelphia for the dinner which the committee has planned for him in the Benjamin Franklin Hotel.
The dinner will follow the reception and private view of the collection of the Du Luxe Carpet Collection, which will be held in the Free Library of Philadelphia that afternoon. The dinner will be given in honor of the Ambassador.

Mme. Claudel, wife of the Ambassador of France, was the luncheon guest yesterday of Mme. Bachke, wife of the Minister of Norway, who entertained the Paris-American room of Mayflower. Others in the party were Mme. Boström, wife of the

WARRANT IS ISSUED FOR WOUNDED MAN

Assault on Divorced Wife of James O. Curwood Laid to Salesman.

BULLET ENTERS MOUTH

Orlando, Fla., Nov. 20 (A.P.)—A warrant charging assault with intent to kill was sworn out for R. C. Patton, Lima, Ohio, salesman, today to add another chapter to his reported six-year love affair with Mrs. Cora Lee Eden, whom he shot November 12, prior to an attempt to take his own life.

Patton had not been served with the warrant tonight and no hearing date was set. The warrant was signed by Mrs. Eden, divorced wife of the late James Oliver Curwood, the author, as she left a local hospital, unable to speak despite eight days of treatment for a bullet wound in the mouth. Patton remained in the hospital under treatment for a self-inflicted bullet wound in the left lung.

Physicians were unable to say whether the woman would regain her speech. The man will recover, they said.

Patton's story of the shooting was given as he lay in the hospital to Sheriff Frank Karr of Orlando county. Patton said he had gone with Mrs. Eden for six years, but she "threw him down." He went to her home near here to "end it all," he said.

He recounted how Mrs. Eden, with a pistol and a dog, backed up her order to him to leave the place. Then, he said, he drew his pistol, shot her, and turned the weapon on himself.

Mrs. Eden was made defendant in a $100,000 allegation of affections suit filed by Mrs. Patton in Lima, Ohio, some time ago. Patton is the father of six children.

"Faust" Will Be Heard on Air Tonight

First National Grand Opera on WRC at 11 P. M.—Mystery Story on WMAL—Breakfast Brevities at 8:15.

The first presentation by the National Grand Opera Company to be broadcast locally this season will be heard from Station WRC at 11 o'clock tonight. "Faust" will be the offering, under the baton of Cesare Sodero.

"Sing Low, Sweet Chariot," the Negro spiritual, is followed by Kahn's "Ave Maria" in the Seiberling program arranged by Frank Black, which will be heard over WRC at 9 o'clock. James Melton, tenor, interprets "Ave Maria." Kreisler's "Liebeslied" will be played on the singing violins.

Belle's "Guard Mount" from "Carmen" will be the featured selection in the symphonic program which Eugene Ormandy's orchestra will broadcast during Jack Frost's Melody Moments at 9:30 o'clock. Schubert's "Fantasie" as a harp solo is a distinguishing contribution of the program, arranged by Stephen Goldner, harpist, who in private life is the wife of Eugene Ormandy. Oliver Smith, tenor, will sing Metcalf's "Absent" and selections from "Naughty Marietta."

Howard Miller's "Merry Christmas" will be featured again in the Sunday hour at 8 o'clock, with Graham McNamee as master of ceremonies.

Frederick William Wile will discuss "The Political Situation in Washington Tonight" at 8:15 o'clock from the studio of station WRC.

An arrangement of "Parade of the Wooden Soldiers" by Fredrich Rich opens the program by the Columbians at 8:30 o'clock from WMAL. Special salon arrangements to other numbers have also been made by Mr. Rich.

The feature is broadcast. A chorus will be heard with "Love Me," "Pretty Little You" and "Smile."

An insurance fraud is the subject of "The True Detective Mysteries" broadcast arranged for 9 o'clock.

A Sunday feature will be a radio program to be broadcast during the Temple Hour at 10 o'clock from WMAL. Other selections include "Without a Song" from "Great Day," "Supposin'," "Deep Night," "You Can't Buy My Eyes," "Valentines" and "Revolutionary Rhythms."

An organ recital and a program of dance music will close WMAL's day on the air.

"Breakfast Brevities" from The Washington Post is again one of the most popular features at 8:15 o'clock from Station WMAL. Peggy Clark, Household Chat and Helpful Hint to Parents to Parents are among the 10 to 11 o'clock attractions this morning.

Jimmie Harbinson, pianist, will be featured at 7 o'clock, preceded by Eddie Varela, soprano. A late dance program will be broadcast from 10 o'clock to midnight.

Walter T. Holt and his Nordica Mandolin and Guitar Club will be broadcast at 10:15 o'clock from WMAL, in a three-quarters of an hour presentation.

Walter Johnson's spectacular comeback in the world series of 1924, when he went into the ninth inning of a tied game and held the New York Giants hitless after his disappointing showing in two previous games, will be revived in all its realism in the second drama of the week. Chorus and Spokesman program over the WJZ network of the National Broadcasting Co. at 8:30 o'clock tonight. Phillips Carlin will report the dramatic finish to the accompaniment of cheering crowds and the crack of Johnson's bat as he slashed out the hit which put Muddy Ruel in position to score the winning run. In addition, the Spokesman will present one of their programs of up-to-date orchestral and vocal hits, with Irving Kauffman as the soloist.

DIAL FLASHES

By ROBERT D. HEINL

OTH the National Broadcasting Co. and the Columbia Broadcasting System paused briefly out of respect for Secretary Good at the time the funeral services were being held at the White House yesterday morning.

It is all right for members of the Federal Radio Commission and Capt. Guy Hill, the chief engineer, to contend that the present radio set up has been a primary cause of reducing man-made interference, and of serving the remote listener, but a typical experience of a listener was our trying to pick up the speech of Chairman Ira E. Robinson, of the Radio Commission, broadcast from Station WBBM, Chicago.

Judge Robinson, inaugurating the Columbia Farm Community network, was speaking from the WMAL studios, but having been advised that the speech would not be broadcast in Washington, and having received no notice that WMAL would carry the speech, as it subsequently did, we despaired to tune it in direct from WBBM, the next nearest station on the network.

COMPLAINTS are being received about WMAL's broadly tuned transmitter. This condition, it is said, has been particularly bad for the last three or four nights. One listener complains that the station is covering 30 points on an ordinary receiver, preventing the reception of WLW, in Cincinnati, without cross talk, and ruining reception from Florida and other stations entirely.

Another Post reader writes:

"So broad was Station WMAL tuned at 10:30 o'clock Tuesday night that it drowned everything else out on the dial from 590 to 960 kilocycles. The next station I could tune in was WEEL, Boston, on one side and WEFB, New York, on the other. Among the stations shut out were WIP, Philadelphia; WCAO, Baltimore; WDAE, Tampa; WAU, Columbus; one of my favorites, WSM, Nashville."

AN application, filed with the Federal Radio Commission, is granted Laurel, Md., heretofore famous as a racing center, it will also be the site of the new broadcasting station for the Universal Wireless Communication Co. The station is that the Laurel transmitter, being about half way between Baltimore and Washington, it would be able to serve both cities.

The Universal Co. which is to engage in radio telegraphy, continues to expand, and recently has been in what role you are playing at the moment. You work with vim and energy, and play wholeheartedly.

You are franky interested in many things, and you are not afraid to express your opinions and ideas.

You are a ready talker and it is easy for you to mix with new people and to adjust yourself to new conditions.

You make others feel at ease with you on very short acquaintance.

There is nothing stiff or affected about you, and you are a natural.

You are merrily companionable and jovially sociable. To live, to love, to like and to be liked is your aim in life. Your friends are legion, and your enemies none.

Great Bridges of the World.

ONCE upon a time—about eight years ago—I was walking somewhere and was "in a hurry." Along came a bridge which had to be drawn up from time to time to let boats pass along a river. Just as I was starting out on the bridge I heard a bell ring. I should have gone back, but instead I made a 100-foot dash across the bridge and managed to get to the other side just in time.

Drawbridges are interesting to watch when they are raised and lowered; but they do not rank with the world's great bridges.

Along comes a bridge which had to be drawn up from time to time to let boats pass along a river. "London Bridge" is one of the most famous. It has been rebuilt several times during the past few centuries. The present bridge was built in 1831. It is 95 feet wide and 1,005 feet long. The "Maiden Bridge" is one of the wonders of the last century. It was finished in 1869, and has a length of 3,455 feet.

Much longer and more wonderful bridges have been built during the present century. In 1926 a bridge across the Delaware River between Philadelphia and Camden, N. J. was completed. It is a suspension bridge and has a span longer than the entire London Bridge. Its total length is 8,126 feet. The cost was $36,000,000.

In 1927, work was started on the bridge across the Hudson River to meet New York City with Fort Lee, N. J. One of the spans in this bridge will be 3,500 feet long. Work should be finished in 1932, and the cost will be about $75,000,000.

In Scotland there is a railroad bridge which is almost two miles long.

SOUTH ADVANCES 6 AS ALL-AMERICAN CANDIDATES

Little Dwells On Attack At Hilltop

Seeks to Perfect Running Offensive for Detroit Game.

Georgetown Line Has Yielded No Touchdown Thus Far.

By JACK ESPY.

With his devoting much effort to building an effective defense for Detroit plays, Head Coach Lou Little of Georgetown isn't neglecting the attacking phase of the Hilltoppers' game and hopes to produce an offense that will match the Titans' in every way when the two rivals clash November 30 in the Michigan City.

It is therefore possible that Georgetown will uncover a surprise against the vaunted Westerners, for in its last two games the Blue and Gray hasn't scored a single point and a high-scoring team such as Detroit might reasonably anticipate little trouble getting the better of an argument on offense.

Little gave his men yesterday as hard a practice session as they have undergone this season. He emphasized the execution of running plays inside and outside of tackle, stressing the importance of interference at the line of scrimmage.

Reserves Also Drilled

Strenuously. Times again, Little ordered the same play rerun until it was executed in the fashion he desired. The second and third string linemen received as much of his attention as the regulars in this phase of the drill and several substitutes showed praiseworthy efforts. Meenan and Schmid, ends; Slezak and Brickman, tackles, and Dubofsky, guard, were especially impressive.

The coming game should settle beyond all question the merits of the Georgetown line as a defensive unit. So far, the Hilltoppers haven't yielded a touchdown this fall and have held New York University, Navy and West Virginia—three formidable offensive teams—outside of their 20-yard line. The reason, many fans recognized as one of the best in the country, and if it comes to include the same sort of success against Detroit few critics anywhere will have just grounds to dispute it as the most outstanding line made.

Lone Touchdown Made

On Forward Pass.

The lone touchdown scored by a Georgetown opponent this season was made by Western Maryland on a forward pass. The play occurred on fourth down after three line thrusts from the 40-yard line had been completely foiled by the hard-charging Hilltoppers line men.

The Hilltoppers hope to break up Detroit's powerful smashes at the tackles and its speedy flank movements. If successful, they very likely will keep the famous Titan back, Alvin, from the field, but will have him and his line. Detroit depends heavily on him, who has shown throughout two seasons of performance that he is worthy of the dependence placed in him. In his section of the land the experts are touting him as an all-American.

Two Seek Presidency
Of Chicago Fight Club

Chicago, Nov. 20 (A.P.)—With the casting of Paddy Harmon as president of the $7,000,000 Chicago Stadium Corporation, which he organized after a long struggle, interest today was focused on his successor and the future policies of the business sports venture.

Of the rumored candidates for the post, two stood out as strong possibilities—Maj. Frederic McLaughlin of Chicago, owner of the Blackhawks professional hockey team, and James F. Kehoe, a New York City Yorker, but now a Chicago broker. The election is scheduled for Friday.

Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight boxing champion, who now promotes boxing shows for the Chicago Coliseum, is mentioned as another possibility, but it is fairly certain that he would be offered only the post as matchmaker, if anything. John Ringling, the circus magnate, is mentioned as another possibility. Dempsey, who today had not been approached, but that he was willing to "listen to any good offers."

Practiced in a snowstorm, working long on defensive preparations.

Coach Bob Zuppke packed a lot of work into a short session at Illinois. He had his men go over their passing attack, then devoted attention to defensive measures against Ohio State's big football. The Big Ten players, however, will start against Ohio State Saturday. The Big Sixes also divided their time between work against Illinois, plays, chiefy passes, and smoothing their own offense.

Hanley Drives Northwestern
For Notre Dame.

A long dummy scrimmage kept Northwestern's men out on the field, and Coach Hanley drove the Indians in preparation for the invasion of Notre Dame Saturday. The feeling still persists that Northwestern is the team to upset the Ramblers and the Wildcats worked enthusiastically.

Cochs Amos Alonso Searcy, coach of Chicago's last-hard drill under the stands at Stagg Field, to escape a bitterly cold wind. More work on the forward passing scheme to be used against Notre Dame Saturday occupied the Washington hawks Saturday. Washington took a short sharp practice on Soldier Field, in which a line-crushing attack was emphasized.

MILLER'S TOE IS ASSET TO OLD LINERS

Punting Expected to Cut Figure in 2 Remaining Games.

JOHNS HOPKINS to be met Thanksgiving Day and Western Maryland to be engaged December 7 both in the Baltimore Stadium.

With that, the 1929 season is over. Buck Miller, right now one of the leading kickers in the country and improving every day.

Miller's prowess with his toe—and his football ability is not by any means confined to his kicking. Being more and more brought to light in his punting, as the Old Liners drill for the games with the Blue Jays and look ahead to the coming with the Green Terrors.

In yesterday's practice Miller nonchalantly put the punters spiraling down the field from 40 to 65 yards, seldom getting a bad punt and generally booting the ball more than half the length of the gridiron. While Miller is the "king bee" of the Old Liners, he is two ably supported by Arthur Roberts, who just about matches him, and Shorty Chalmers, who does not get such great distance, but who is consistently good. Chalmers also is deadly on placement kicks from inside the 20-yard mark, as he demonstrated by his work against Virginia Poly last Saturday.

Light Work on Tap for Old Line Guards.

Continuing as he started on Tuesday, Coach Curley Byrd gave his regulars only light work yesterday, with the reserve grididers being put through a more strenuous session. If the regulars' scrummage at all before the Hopkins game it will be in the next day or two, but the indications are they won't be given any.

As they have been drilling, the first two teams have been lining up as follows:

Varsity—Pease and Heagy, ends; Lombard and Carlis, tackles; Reintz and Krajcovic, guards; Madigan, center; Evans, quarterback; Miller and Chalmers, half backs; Radice, full back.

Second team—Rooney and Norris, ends; Fisher and Rizibitzki, tackles; Wilson and J. McDonald, guards; Fisher, center; May, quarterback; Settino and Berger, half backs; Pitzer, full back.

Norris, Fisher, Rizibitzki, McDonald, Faber, May and Berger go into the Virginia Poly game as supporters.

Robert, pinch-hitting back, who never scrimmages, also got into the Virginia Poly contest.

Suit Nets $3,000 as Commission For Arranging Dempsey Fight

NEW YORK, Nov. 20 (A.P.)—Madison Square Garden lost today in the first of three suits now in the courts involving the legal characters in Jack Dempsey's famous last stand as heavyweight champion.

Richard Fuchs, secretary to John Ringling, circus man, won an award of $3,000 from a jury in State Superior Court in New York to recover $18,000 allegedly due him as commission for arranging Dempsey's battle with Gene Tunney in the Sesquicentennial Stadium at Philadelphia in 1926.

In congratulating the jury on its award, Justice John Ford said he believed that if Tex Rickard, who commissioned Fuchs to arrange the pre-

Yale to Hold Booth as Reserve

McLennan to Start Against Harvard at Quarter Back.

Midget Player's Leg
Closely Guarded as Game Nears.

NEW HAVEN, Nov. 20 (N.Y.W.N.)—Yale coaches are treating Albie Booth's left leg like a priceless jewel in a casket. Not the slightest chance is being taken with the injured member that's been rather slow responding to medical treatment. Booth will surely oppose Harvard unless his Charley horse afflicted leg gets much worse, which is doubtful. What the coaches are guarding against is the risk of Booth's leg being shocked by collision or weight pressed upon it.

The Blue's little stick of dynamite reported for practice today. He simply took part in several formations, walking through the plays, and then retired to the side lines, where he watched the action from a distance.

Even if Albie had not sustained the injury to his leg it is doubtful whether the coaches would have started him against the Crimson. His greatest inspirational value is to be rushed into the game at strategic times, which not only lifts the Blue's morale but tends to undermine the opponents' state of mind.

McLennan Won Post
In Princeton Game.

In Booth's quarter back position will be Don McLennan, whose fiery presence did so much to bring about Yale's great display of power in the beginning of the second half against Princeton last week. It was McLennan's inspiring handling of the team and his irresistible running of tackles and roosters that won him the starting assignment at quarter back for the Harvard classic.

Weighing but 165 pounds, McLennan proved himself such a powerful, elusive runner that the big Tiger forwards seldom stopped his short of subduing him. It was McLennan who was Yale's hero in the 19-10 victory over Princeton while Booth sat dejectedly on the bench. Once the midget star tossed off his blanket and started to lumber up, with the hope of going in to kick the punt after Yale's second touchdown, but the coaches had him sit down again.

McLennan's performance was so good that it was decided that it had been necessary to start him in.

Withholding of Booth
Adds to Confidence.

And as things turned out, Yale gained immensely in increased confidence because Booth was not used. Until the encounter with the Tiger the Eli had been called a one-man team. That was particularly true in the Army game and almost to the extreme extent in his terrific struggle with the Green Terrors.

Miller's prowess with his toe—and his football ability is not by any means confined to his kicking. Being more and more brought to light in his punting, as the Old Liners drill for the games with the Blue Jays and look ahead to the coming with the Green Terrors.

With yesterday's practice Miller nonchalantly put the punters spiraling down the field from 40 to 65 yards, seldom getting a bad punt and generally booting the ball more than half the length of the gridiron. While Miller is the "king bee" of the Old Liners, he is two ably supported by Arthur Roberts, who just about matches him, and Shorty Chalmers, who does not get such great distance, but who is consistently good. Chalmers also is deadly on placement kicks from inside the 20-yard mark, as he demonstrated by his work against Virginia Poly last Saturday.

COLONBO, BOXER, BANNED.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 20 (A.P.)—The Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission today suspended Joe Colombo, boxer of Philadelphia, until he has a contract to box at Motor City Gymnasium, Pittsburgh. Jack Thomas, boxer, Chicago, was indefinitely suspended for unsatisfactory services at Pittsburgh.

Colonbo, boxer, was suspended for breach of contract in his fight with Gene Tunney in the Mohawks by a score of 14 to 7, but this season he has been a great favorite.

MISSSTEP DISQUALIFIED, BATEAU WINS BOWIE PURSE

Choice Fouled As Winner Swerves

Bateau Moved Up to First and Karl Eitel 2d in Feature.

Starboard Light Wins Over Band of Maidens in Opener.

Special to The Washington Post.

BOWIE RACE TRACK, Nov. 20.—A disqualification came with the running of the White Marsh Handicap this afternoon after the La Vieille Starboard Master beat Walter M. Eitel's Bateau up a length and a half, but tired at end. Gnome Boy, on extreme outside, ran a good race. ANGRY LASSI came from behind and moving up sharply, bolted across to the inside interfering with both Bateau and Karl Eitel. Ambrose, who had the mount on Bateau, was not slow in lodging a claim of foul against the winner, which it was ridden by Eddie Ambrose, and it was officially allowed by the stewards. The change in the placing made Bateau, first, Karl Eitel second and Gnomes third.

The day started in the White Marsh Handicap, all eligible for the $30,000 purse, with a handicap. Handicap was the first year of a public trial for Saturday's big feature. Missstep and Bateau, both heavily supported, went to the post second and first choices, respectively. In the early stages Karl Eitel went to the front and Ambrose, laying out a lead of four lengths, was the leader when the race ended.

Two-dollar mutuels paid BREZZING THROUGH, $14.10, $2.50, $2.40; SISTONY, $3.10, $1.00, $1.00.

BREZZING THROUGH broke fast, rushed to front, was under stout restraint and drew away. SISTONY was hotly ridden all the way and was second. BREZZING THROUGH followed him, then BATOON, and CULLODEN broke slow and made up ground to finish fast. CULLODEN ran very poorly.

Missstep, Bateau Close Up

ounding the far turn both Missstep and Bateau began to close, the former on the outside. Going to the furiong post Missstep moved into a lead of a length and a half and for the remainder of the race held it. Karl Eitel, who had the mount on Bateau, was a length in front of SISTONY, a half a length in front of BREZZING THROUGH and a half a length in front of CULLODEN.

The Fascinating Purse, an added feature fashioned for 3-year-old fillies—brought a well-balanced lot to the post. There were five starters and Nettie Stone was a heavily favored favorite. The race finished a running contest and Middlebury Stone, unburdened, the winner in Electra. Electra was ridden by Mack Garner, who handled her in the confident manner he always does.

In the early stages of the struggle Electra's chances were none too good, but she began to move and went to the front. There were five starters and Nettie Stone was a heavily favored favorite. The race finished a running contest and Middlebury Stone, unburdened, the winner in Electra. Electra was ridden by Mack Garner, who handled her in the confident manner he always does.

Two-dollar mutuels paid GUN ROYAL, $16.10. BREZZING THROUGH followed him, then BATOON, and CULLODEN broke slow and made up ground to finish fast. CULLODEN ran very poorly.

ELECTRA WINS THE NOMINATION FROM NETTIE STONE.

On the outside going to the furiong post Electra moved into a lead of a length and a half and for the remainder of the race held it. Karl Eitel, who had the mount on Bateau, was a length in front of SISTONY, a half a length in front of BREZZING THROUGH and a half a length in front of CULLODEN.

At the afternoon progress the footing kept improving, and by tomorrow the track should be fast. After the running of the third race Trainer Middleton brought out Victoria, and the Warm Stable's crack horses with Jockey Eddie Ambrose got into the race. The first mile in 1:42.2-5. The fractional time for the last 2 furlongs was 0:26. 0:32. 1:17.5. Victoria appeared to be only gallant enough to win the entire trip. This was his final prep for the Southern Maryland Handicap, to be run on Saturday.

Starboard Light Roms Home in Opener.

Starboard Light, a big strong son of Star Hampton, galloped home an easy winner in front of a band of 2-year-old maiden colts that came to the post, swerved over to inside blocking BATEAU, for which he was disqualified for fouling. BATEAU broke free, was taken back, came around field and was going to the front, but was overtaken and beaten by MEANDER. Starboard Light, however, had good speed, but tired. STAR FLYER had a good race, but was a good race. EASTER STOCKINGS quit to a walk.

MISSSTEP'S MISSTEPS COST HIM PURSE IN FEATURE.

Fifth Race—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $1,000. The White Marsh Handicap. One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $1,000. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good. Weather, place, driving. ## SPEAKER LEE FLINGS BITCHIE HAT IN RING

Silver Spring Party Leader Announces His Support, Clearing Up Doubt.

STATE STRENGTH SHOWN

Special to The Washington Post. Frederick, Md., Nov. 20.—Maj. E. Brooke Lee, of Silver Spring, Speaker of the Maryland House of Delegates, and recognized as one of the State's Democratic leaders, announced tonight he would support Albert C. Ritchie for reelection as Governor of Maryland next year.

The Montgomery County leader's statement was made at the dinner of the Junior Democratic Club of Western Maryland, at which Gov. Ritchie and Senator Maryland E. Tydings were the guests of honor.

In State political circles the announcement is regarded as one of the most important developments in the Maryland gubernatorial race as it has definitely and openly launched the Ritchie campaign for renomination.

For several months it has been generally understood in the State that the governor would be a candidate to succeed himself, provided there appeared to be a State-wide sentiment favoring his reelection. Maj. Lee's speech tonight removes all doubt at this point when he declared that after a thorough tour and investigation of conditions in every section of the State he was strongly convinced "that Ritchie is the man of a clear majority of the citizens of Maryland to be governor again and that he is the strongest candidate that a united Democracy can present to the voters in November, 1930."

Sentiment Found Strong.

The Maryland speaker also declared he had talked with several hundred active Democrats in Baltimore and in the counties of Maryland during the past 60 days, and that he finds it is the clear opinion of the very great majority of them that Gov. Ritchie is the strongest vote-getter who can run in 1930.

"I find in Baltimore," the major declared, "that those interested in Democratic success and city officials who are going to be candidates for nomination on the Democratic ticket in the next year insist that Ritchie is the strongest candidate to head the party ticket in 1930. There are scores of city and county leaders and officials who can retain their leadership only through the election of a Democratic governor, and when these all of them can stay in power on office, and as an economic governor, they are nearly unanimous in the opinion that Ritchie will get more votes in November, 1930, than any other Democrat running for governor."

The major declares these men are convinced because they know that the speaker of the House, Ritchie, is the Harding landslide, and again after the Coolidge landslide, and they are confident that they will elect him again after the Hoover landslide because of the excellent record he has made in administering the public affairs of Maryland.

Points to Past Performances.

"In 1923," he pointed out, "Ritchie reversed the 55,000 Harding majority with a Ritchie majority of 48,000, a difference of 103,000, or 28,000 more than needed to reverse Hoover's Maryland majority in the last election. In 1928, Ritchie reversed Coolidge's 14,000 Maryland majority and polled 14,000, a majority of 61,000, or a difference of 74,000."

Maj. Lee also referred to Gov. Ritchie's wet and dry record when he said:

"Ritchie has given both Baltimore City and the counties that degree of prohibition enforcement that their people want and will support. He has done his best to do this, and by Ritchie the governor has signed fifteen county laws increasing the scope and powers of prohibition enforcement in counties who elected legislative representatives and county officials who represented their people as desiring local social enforcement of local self-government as applied by Ritchie the governor has signed.

"Montgomery, Frederick, Garrett, Howard and Carroll are among the western Maryland counties that have strengthened their local prohibition enforcement through county laws passed by the Legislature and signed by Gov. Ritchie."

Baltimore No Molested.

He also pointed out that Baltimore City under Ritchie leadership has not had a little Volstead act forced upon it and is consequently free from the demoralizing competition of the enforcement of a law the people do not want and as a result the Baltimore City police force has given that city the lowest major crime record among the large cities of the country.

"The Democratic party has lined up on the side of progress and service and sound governmental sense. Maj. Lee said that "based on a State-wide popular sentiment, Ritchie will be nominated and elected in 1930 to continue his work with the people of Maryland who have stood the attacks that have been launched against him, and because he is the leader of the most united Democratic State and city organization that has functioned in Maryland since 1915."

Party Declared United.

In discussing the present Democratic gubernatorial situation in Maryland, Maj. Lee said:

"The situation is not that Ritchie has satisfied all the people, but that Ritchie is the strongest man to head the Democratic State ticket next November."

"Ritchie survives as the Democratic candidate, the Democratic has and the Democratic has a sense of faith in his record of service in office and because of the strength his position on vital public issues today gives him with the voters of Maryland."

"The political and party result is that Ritchie now leads the most united and most constructive Democratic State organization any Democratic leader has ever led in Maryland."

"He is strongly convinced that the party leaders of Gov. Ritchie's continuing availability that most of the city leaders, including the organization leaders of 27 of Baltimore's 28 wards, are now vigorously urging Gov. Ritchie's renomination."

Strong in Baltimore.

"The present Democratic organization that is now united behind Gov. Ritchie in Baltimore City is the strongest and most constructive Democratic organization that has ever been together in Baltimore since Mahon and Mally split in the Harrington-Lee primary of 1915."

"The Democratic leaders of the majority organization of all but one of the fourteen western, central and southern Maryland counties already

VIRGINIA DEDICATES LAFAYETTE SHRINE

Claudel Presents Legion of Honor Cross to McIntyre and Alderman.

PORTRAIT IS ACCEPTED

Special to The Washington Post.

Charlottesville, Va., Nov. 20.—"May the University of Virginia always remain what Jefferson intended her to be, a place where Virginia, one of the most honorable communities of free men since the Greek republics, has learned to take cognizance of herself, and teach America the glory and the burden of the word independence."

This was the wish expressed by Ambassador Paul Claudel here today in an address delivered at the dedication of the Hall of Fame.

"Here is a democracy, not as an ideal and substitute of dead regimes and impossible monarchies, but we drink it as the very spring as it is born by will of nature from a virgin soil and from a community of free and equal land owners," he continued.

Both Jefferson and Lafayette understood that the freedom of a country that its organic constitution, does not come from the outside, from the will of a tyrant, from the play of luck, of greed and of blind force, but that it is born from the soil, from the community of earth and man and that law and life are children of the same mighty womb."

Another lesson learned from Jefferson, said the ambassador, was that of optimism—"that, after all, no man is better judge of his own interest than himself, and that their interest is often of his own interest than the respect of the right of other people; that the best way to make men good is to make them responsible; to give them experience is to give them power. Communities which are born from such a vital essence that they are not born to die, are born the double lesson which America had to learn from the wider and wider development of her majestic horizons, and France from a century of exterior wars and interior strife."

The portrait of Orville G. Smith, now in the local entertainment center, was accepted in his absence by O. V. Gould, of New York, his nephew.

In presenting the Knight's Cross of the Legion of Honor to President Alderman and Mr. McIntyre, the ambassador said:

"President Alderman received the award for services that he and the University of Virginia had rendered in time of war; McIntyre, as an expression of gratitude in return for his gift of a tuberculosis hospital in New York."

Before attending a tea and reception at the Colonnade Club, the final event on the day's program, the ambassador visited the room occupied by Edgar Allan Poe while a student here.

THE WASHINGTON POST BUREAU, 312 S. Washington St., Alexandria, Va.

Three boys, each about 14 years old, who were held at police headquarters awaiting transfer to the State Reform School, made their escape from the detention room on the second floor Tuesday night, and were not missed until early yesterday morning. Marshall Patterson, Jr., and Everett Ensor were recaptured yesterday morning but the third, Melvin Johnson, has not yet been apprehended. Patterson and Ensor told the police that Johnson left with them, but they became separated later.

The boys made their escape by breaking a wooden panel on the door leading to the room, which was occupied by the probation officer, and which was formerly used for a jury room in the corporation court. The boys found the large wooden door leading to the outside was latched from the opposite side, so they procured a chair, opened the transom above the door, and then climbed themselves in the hallway adjoining the corporation courtroom. They then came down the front steps opened the street door which was latched from the inside, and were free. The police were told that it was between 9 and 10 o'clock Tuesday night when the escape was made.

The lads, who are from the town of Lincoln, Fairfax County, where they entered a store conducted by a Mrs. Veach, secured a small amount of loot, including clothing, candy and tobacco, all of which was recovered. Patterson was captured by Policeman Mullin, while Policemen McDonald and Jones captured Ensor.

"The boys are not bad," said Capt. W. W. Campbell, of the police department.

"They are bad," said Capt. W. W. Campbell.
